'Operation Lift' Theme For Religious Activity

Mantovani Feature Of Artist Series Program

"Glistening strings, woodwinds, and burnished brass" will be featured at the third performance of the 1955-56 Artist Series when "Music by Mantovani" comes to the University campus. Students may get tickets in the Well on Oct. 26, 27, 28, and 31.

Mantovani, famous English composer-conductor, and his 45-piece orchestra, on their first American tour, will appear in the Men's Gym Monday, Oct. 31 at 8:15 p.m.

Appealing to the average audience because his music strays from extremes in jazz or symphonic music, Mantovani's "new music" has become a household word throughout the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, and Europe. Millions of Americans listen nightly to his recording of "Greensleeves," theme song for NBC's program, "Music Through the Night."

Although Mantovani likes to arrange works of other composers, his chief concern is his own music. Concerning a recent composition used as background music for an English drama, Mantovani said, "It was composed with Tchaikovsky over one shoulder, Chopin over the other, and Mantovani in the middle."

Born in Venice, Mantovani went to London when a child after his father became conductor of a salon orchestra there. Taking an active interest in the piano and violin, he had his own orchestra when 18.

According to Mantovani, music is where you find it—in concert halls, on records, in broadcast studios, "and quite often in the pockets of music students."

Three Students Break Rules, Go

Three students withdrew from the University early this week as a result of their violations of University regulations.

Robert Beuke was cited by city police for drunken driving early Sunday morning, and has been fined and sentenced by Mayor Clarence Dick of Bowling Green. While driving under the influence of alcohol, Beuke's car caused damage to two parked vehicles on Wooster St.

He submitted to a blood test to determine the alcohol content of his blood, and failed this sobriety test.

Rita Keane and Richard Yace were found under the influence of alcohol early Sunday morning by campus police. Miss Keane failed to return to her dormitory by the 1 a.m. deadline and was found after a police search in Yace's car. Both admitted drinking throughout Saturday.

SAE Charged With Dirty Rushing Two

BULLETIN: Late yesterday, SAE was found guilty as charged on both accounts. The fraternity was fined $100 and lost two rushers.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was tried yesterday afternoon on two charges of infractions of Interfraternity Council upperclass rushing rules, Jerry Nysewander, IFC vice-president, said.

Sitting as judges at the session were Robert G. Riegler, lecturer in business administration; Wilbur J. Abell, associate professor of business administration; and Walter Freauff, Rodgers Quadrangle head resident.

Three Speakers Give Main Talks

Student activities from Oct. 31 to Nov. 3 will center around Religious Emphasis Week, which officially begins Monday. The complete slate of programs and seminars is based on the theme of the week, "Operation Lift."

Dr. Henry H. Crane, pastor of the Central Methodist Church at Detroit, will speak on "What's It All About?" at 11 a.m. Monday in the first session in the Main Auditorium.

"The Beginnings and Growth of One's Value System" is the title of the second address to be given Tuesday by the Rev. Trafford Maher, professor at St. Louis University, St. Louis, Missouri. Wednesday, Rabbi Stephen Schafer, of the Collingwood Avenue

Classes Shuffled For Religious Talks

The schedule for classes on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday is: 8 a.m. classes start at 8, end at 9:25; 10 a.m. classes start at 9:30, end at 10:10; 11 a.m. classes start at 10:15, end at 10:50; 8:15 classes start at 8, end at 8:55; 9:30-10:45 classes start at 9:05, end at 10.

Temple, Toledo, will speak on "Goodbye, God, I'm Going to College."

Religious leaders of the three main faiths, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, will be on campus for these four days, and will make classroom appearances from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. upon invitation from the faculty. They will also speak at houses and dorms on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Included in the activities of the week are student seminars, to be held each afternoon except Thursday in the Gate Theatre and in the Administration Bldg. Representatives of the three faiths will conduct the seminars, which will be held from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday; 2:15 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday; and 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday. Pres. Ralph W. McDonald will preside at the closing assembly at 11 a.m. Thursday in the Main Aud.

Lack Of Cooperation Reason Given For Changes In Election Committee

Changes in the Student Elections Committee, effective second semester, have been announced by Jean Goldinger, president of Student Senate.

According to Miss Goldinger, the re-vamped committee will be composed of representatives from all housing units on campus and all off-campus fraternities. The larger housing units will elect one representative from each wing.

All representatives will be elected by the housing units, subject to approval by Senate.

The change is being made because of a reported lack of cooperation within the present committee.

Senate believes that by having a delegate from every housing unit the committee has a more fair representation of the student body.

The committee will work in cooperation with a general chairman, and three sub-chairmen in charge of arrangements, publicity, and balloting. These are to be appointed by Senate.

The first elections to be handled by the new committee will be election of freshman class officers and freshman delegates to Student Senate.

STUDENTS GET HANDBOOKS

Students who live off-campus may obtain copies of the Student Handbook by calling at the Student Activities Office, 102A.

Any faculty or staff member who desires a copy may obtain one by calling at 107A or 216A.

The Handbook, which is being distributed free, contains a calendar of events for the year and a directory of student organizations.

IFC To Consider New Fraternity Pledge Rules

The new scholastic requirements for fraternity pledging will be placed before IFC by the scholarship committee Wednesday evening. The new set of regulations will include six points. Grade requirements for pledging will be lowered to University standards for good scholastic standing for a four-year trial period. The grades of actives and pledges will be segregated during this trial period.

Telephone Directory Free—At Printer's

The student directory is in the hands of the printer's, according to the office of the University publications and news service. The directory contains the names, campus address, hometown address, and campus phone number of all students, faculty members, administrative persons, and other employees.

No charge will be made for the directory when it is ready for distribution.

It has been prepared under the supervision of Harold Van Winkle, director of the news bureau.

'Arms, Man' Witty In Light Comedy Appeal

By BRAD GREENBERG

Love, war, comedy, jealousy—all are skillfully blended by the University players in G. B. Shaw's "Arms and the Man," on stage tonight and tomorrow in the main aud.

A light comedy, with shades of humor ranging from apparent witticisms to delicate touches of subtlety, the play moves through a bedroom to a courtyard in three acts without slowing down too much, in a one-hour, 45 minute presentation.

Its obvious plot is sincerely created and told by a half-dozen students who carry out their roles with varying degrees of ability and credibility.

Baugh Impressive

Juanita Baugh, as the coy Raina who entertains an enemy officer in her boudoir, is excellent. She portrays a self-impressed, spoiled woman, until this outer shell of ego is punctured, revealing a woman of warmth, bursting with love. Both characterizations are believable.

Her animation stands out from the rest of the cast, as her movements of body and arms are most

Her unofficial lover, D n Wadzryniak, created the personage of a professional soldier, Captain Bluntschli, who is kept going only through the presence of danger, which he finds in Miss Baugh's bedroom.

He gives strength to the character by his blasé attitude and devil-may-care indifference, although his language at times seemed off-key for the late 19th century setting.

Betty Beall is cast as the provocative servant girl attempting to rise socially through proper marriage. A newcomer to the University Theatre, her debut indicates a maturing actress.

One Both A Week

A blustering, bathless character, Raina's father, is competently done by Jim Rodgers who is thoroughly confused by the goings on in his household. His man-servant, Frank Toth, offers his role the reserve necessary for its success.

Robert Rask, as Raina's official suitor before claiming the servant as his true love, was a little unsteady in his expression. However, his role in which he described himself as a "hero, buffoon, humbug, blaggard, and coward," was difficult to fulfill.

The mother, Dolores Kolthoff, presented an air of aristocracy, a person intended to exemplify pride and nobility, although her voice was shrill at inopportune times.

Overlooking one insipid love scene, this production, directed in an excellent fashion by F. Lee Meisle, combines the spice of flirtation and jealousy with the sugar of love and comedy to enact a seasoned play of considerable merit.

Leadership Feast Hears Smith Speak

Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student life and services, will be the principal speaker at the Association of Women Students' annual Leadership Banquet, tonight at 7:30 in the Kohl Hall dining room.

The formal dinner will honor 130 women campus leaders, including sorority presidents, members of Panhellenic Council, presidents of honorary societies and the Women's Recreational Association, editors of publications, counselors, and members of Cap and Gown, AWS Legislative Board, Student Court and Student Senate.

Pres. Ralph W. McDonald, the administrative deans, and head residents of women's dormitories will be special guests, announced Linda Sue Johnson, AWS president.

Faculty Adviser Joins Honorary

Raymond Yeager, instructor in speech, was reactivated by the Beta Tau Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa as an active faculty adviser last week.

His appointment is for a four-year term, and he replaces the late Dr. Waldo E. Steidtmann, who passed away early last summer. Mr. Yeager was charter president of the local circle.

Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honorary for men, will make available next Tuesday application blanks for membership. Juniors and seniors may receive these forms in the Graduate School office.

Outstanding men students are recognized by ODK for membership on the basis of their work in any of the following fields: scholarship; athletics; publications; speech, music, and dramatic arts; and social and religious activities.

The scholastic requirement for juniors is: a minimum of 2.4 in the College of Business Administration; 2.7 in the College of Education; 2.6 in the College of Liberal Arts. For seniors in the College of Business Administration, 2.6; College of Education, 2.7; College of Liberal Arts, 2.6.

A Rare Opportunity

With many students finding too little time to follow up their religious pursuits, and offering the pressure of classes and activities as reasons, Religious Emphasis Week is a high note in the fall schedule.

Classes will be shortened Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to enable all students to attend the main addresses by outstanding representatives of the Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant faiths.

The seminars, dinners, and bull sessions with other men of various denominations offer a rare opportunity to find out about other religions, pose questions, and even defend your own faith if the necessity comes.

But the emphasis for this religious week has not been primarily placed upon getting a better understanding of the religions of other persons. It has been directed toward gaining fuller knowledge and understanding of one's own religion.

Only through proper interpretation and judgment of a person's own faith can that person acquire the ability to appreciate the religious philosophies of all people with whom he comes in contact.

Too many of us know only the barest essentials about our religions. We know some of the dogma, some of the Biblical stories, and some of the better-known passages. Too few persons fully comprehend the meaning and significance of their religious creeds.

By taking full advantage of the diversified activities of the first three days next week we can all become more acquainted with what we believe and the beliefs of those about us.

Lost Lives

Three students lost their lives this past week end—their campus lives, that is. The fact that they were found under the influence of alcohol is considered an automatic withdrawal from the University on the basis of regulations signed by each student prior to admittance.

That the students are allowed to withdraw is a leeway allowed by the University so the record will not show they were dismissed.

One student drank heavily by his own admission, one by scientific analysis, and the third was incoherent when apprehended.

These incidents belong in the proper perspective. Three such cases among some 4,000 students and some 10,000 persons who were at the University Homecoming week end is serious so far as the individuals are concerned, but cannot be considered a poor reflection on the entire University student body.

Generally, the students conducted their own affairs in a manner reflecting credit to themselves and to the University.

McDonald Approves Grad Qualifications

The following qualifications for the admission of graduate students to honor societies have been set up by the Honors and Awards Committee and approved by the President:

1. A candidate must have a semester of full time work with 12 hours of graduate credit on the local campus; or if he has taken part time work, he must have completed 15 credit hours on the graduate level.

2. In general, it is expected that on the undergraduate level a candidate will have had a point average as high as that required for the admission of a senior to the honor society. Further, any undergraduate work taken here to qualify a student for graduate study will be included.

3. In case a candidate was not eligible for an honor society as an undergraduate, he may be admitted as a graduate provided the level of undergraduate work is his major field was at least 3.0

4. Any candidate must have a point average of 3.5 on the semester or more of graduate work he has done.

Official Announcements

Upperclassmen on University-sponsored trips this week end may receive their fraternity bids from Jerry Nysewander, Interfraternity Council vice-president, at Ivy Hall.

The Alpha Phi Omega bookstore will be open on Monday, Oct. 31, Tuesday, Nov. 1, and Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 2 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. to return money for books sold.

D. N. Sparks, training chief at the Erie Ordnance Depot, will hold a group meeting in the main auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 2, to discuss "Career Opportunities in the Federal Civil Service." Dr. Ralph H. Geer, director of admissions, has urged that all interested students should attend this meeting.

Religious Week

ers, are Dr. J. Arthur Baird, Mr. Thomas Harris, Rabbi Harry Kaplan, Dr. Paul McKay, Father Mierzwiak, and Monsignor James J. O'Toole.

Representatives from each of the three main faiths will discuss the contributions his faith has made to higher education in a faculty seminar to be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons in 103 Administration Bldg. The first seminar will be at 4 p.m. Monday, and will be conducted by Rabbi Schafer.

The second seminar will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday, with Father Maher as speaker, and the final faculty seminar will be conducted by Dr. Baird at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Band Garbs Miss Homecoming; Dummy Up For Oberlin Queen

By DICK BUDD

The Homecoming game on Saturday was to be enhanced by more than just the presentation of the queens and the return of record number of alums. The University Marching Band was to present its half-time show in new and more appropriate orange and brown uniforms. Needless to say, the project fell through.

We shouldn't feel too bad about the whole situation because we'll still have an opportunity to view the new attire by attending the Ohio Musical Education Association meeting Dec. 3. We have been assured that the uniforms will be ready by that time.

For all the disappointed, we have arranged a sneak preview in print of the new outfits, the first new ones in eight years.

The coats will be orange, trimmed in white down the side. The new uniforms will be topped off with a hat which boasts a six-inch orange plume.

A student at Ohio University who wishes to own an athletic card must prove he is a man. No one will receive an "official university document" as the card is called, unless he can produce a draft card. Women students will have their ages verified through dormitory record. College life is really getting tough.

A pretty senior girl had the privilege of becoming the first queen in the history of Oberlin, and probably the last, when she was elected homecoming queen a few weeks back. The social board of the college frowned on the election because only "half of the students participated." Four of the dorms made a hoax out of the election by nominating "Amanda," a laboratory dummy, for the regal honor.

The young Columbus queen was ordered not to pose for photographers.

A man who has committed a mistake and does not correct it is committing another mistake.

Dean Martin turned blackjack dealers at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas the other night and, according to the management, dropped $75,000 of the hotel's money in half an hour.

The pair sat down at a table and started a game of their own to kill time while waiting for a delayed plane back to Hollywood. Others moved to the table to join in the game and with that, the owner of the Sands made it a regular game with Martin and Lewis as dealers. Anything for a laugh. —INS

Letters To The Editor

Fresher News, Controversy Wanted By Ivy Readers

Dear Editor,

Not really chronic complainers, we feel that it is our duty in this case to extend to your vehicle some admittedly unsolicited advice. We find The B-G News as dry as a mouth on the "morning after a tough night." In not all, mind you, but a goodly percentage of cases, we find your reported news as stale as a restaurant donut on Monday morning. Saturday's football game doesn't deserve one-inch caps on Tuesday morning.

We have searched through edition after edition of the "News" and have thus far failed to find a bad word about anyone or anything. Doesn't anyone on the staff have an opinion on something? Couldn't we be treated to a little controversy once or twice a semester?

Something must go wrong on the campus occasionally—the law of percentage makes this mandatory. Isn't anyone ever injured in the gym classes? Doesn't someone in the Artist Series sometimes give a sub-par performance? Aren't any of the campus dances and functions ever failures? Isn't someone or some group unhappy about something sometimes? Couldn't a little spark of interest be included in the "News" from time to time to make its release each Tuesday and Friday a thing to look forward to?

We sincerely feel that your action in including a "Letters to the Editor," or a "Students Opinion" column in The B-G News would go farthest in soothing our complaining brows. We feel that even if we were never to take advantage of this proposed addition to the "News," the opportunity to do so would serve as a balm to our wrinkled opinions and d thoughts. After all, Mr. Editor, would not such a column add that spark of interest that we talked of in the last paragraph? We, as a committee of two, believe that it would. We further believe that to be able to voice our opinions in our University's newspaper is not outside the realm of our liberties. Do you disagree?

From reading your paper for a period of time, we have come to realize that your conservative policies will prevent publication of this letter. It is this fact that causes the ache in the marrow of our brain bone. Published or not, the writing of this note has acted upon our consciences much as an aspirin does upon a headache. Published or not, we would very much like an answer from you in some manner or form.

And if you have bothered to read this far in our message, we thank you for your kind and gracious consideration.

Sincerely,

Raymond Shandelmier
Matthew Sobon, Ivy Hall

(Editor's Note) Constructive criticism on the above is always appreciated. Send letters on any campus subject to the B-G News Office.

To the Editor,

I should like to express my appreciation to the students, faculty members, and other employees for their splendid cooperation in making parking spaces available for campus visitors on Homecoming Day. The traffic situation was handled in an extremely efficient manner which was only made possible by your willingness to refrain from driving and parking on campus. Thank you for your courtesy and consideration. It helped to make the day our finest Homecoming to date, both for us and for our visitors.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph W. McDonald, Pres.

To the Student Body:

The University Homecoming Committee would like to thank the whole student body for your cooperation and help in making this week end a pleasant one for all friends of the University, both old and new.

We appreciate especially the contribution and effort of Alpha Phi Omega, Omega Phi Alpha, WRA, Alpha Chi Omega, Student Senate, ODK, Cap and Gown, Pan-Hel, and IFC. Without the aid of these groups and their many members the whole program would not have been possible.

We hope that in the future Homecoming will continue to grow in importance and meaning to the entire student body and friends of the university.

Sincerely yours,

University Homecoming Committee

MANTOVANI RECEPTION PLANNED

A reception for Mantovani and his orchestra, sponsored by Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, will be held in the Recreation Hall following the program Monday evening.

Administrative officers, department chairmen, and representatives of fraternities, sororities, and residence halls have been invited.

Panhel Makes Plans For Two Freshman Teas

Over 500 freshman girls have signed up for the Panhellenic teas, according to Arlene Daugherty, chairman of the Panhel committee.

The teas will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. on Oct. 30 and Nov. 6, according to Miss Daugherty.

Two days were set aside for the teas this year to make it easier for both the freshman and sorority members. The additional day will also provide for smaller numbers in each group, so that all students can become better acquainted.

Lists will be posted today in all freshman dorms and in the Administration Bldg. listing names in each group and time and place of meeting.

On each of the two Sundays, refreshments will be served by the sororities.

Committee chairmen are: registration and orientation, Shirley Grimes, Angela Carcione, and June Fritsch; refreshments, Diane Johnson, Joanne Rudy, and Joyce Roberts.

'High Tor' Gives Tryout Schedule

Tryouts for "High Tor" will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 1, in the main auditorium, according to Harold B. Obee, assistant professor of speech and director of the play. "High Tor" is the second major production of the year, and will be presented Dec. 8, 9, and 10 in the main auditorium.

"High Tor" is a romantic story by Maxwell Anderson gently satirizing poetical idealism and greedy commercialism. "It has exciting comedy, beautiful fantasy, and a steam-shovel on a mountain-top," Mr. Obee said.

Scripts for the play are on reserve at the main library for those persons interested in reading it prior to the try-outs.

BG Seeks Sixth Win At Marshall Saturday

BG's undefeated football team will try to keep its unbeaten record intact and spoil Marshall University's Homecoming when it meets the Big Green Saturday in Huntington, W. Va.

Bruce Bellard, who scouted the Marshall team, reports that the Thundering Herdsmen have a potentially good team. Marshall's leading scorer is right halfback Len Hellyer. He is a consistent runner and passer and is one of the MAC's leading ground-gainers. Operating at the other halfback position is Fred Freeman.

Zban Is Quarterback
Quarterbacking the team is Bill Zban, who is the only newcomer in the backfield with the exception of Hellyer, who beat out last year's starter Don Adkins at the halfback slot. The big man in Marshall's line is 255-pound tackle, Ted D'Alesio. Two other strong men on the forward wall are co-captains Bill Harris and Bud McCollins. Harris is said to be Marshall's top candidate for all-MAC honors.

The Herdsmen have been hampered by injuries in its recent games, but most of them will be ready for the BG game. In its game against Kent State, three starters didn't see action.

Win Two Games
They have a two-win and three-loss record. Its losses came at the hands of Kent State, Miami, and Ohio University. They rolled up

Bryan's Passing Leads Team; DeOrion Tops Rushing, Scoring

Jim Bryan leads the Falcons in passing and pass interceptions after six games, while sophomore halfback Vic DeOrion tops the rushing and scoring departments.

Bryan, who was ranked number 12 passer in small colleges in the nation after five games, is well out in front of teammate Don Nehlen in the passing statistics.

Bryan has attempted 41 passes in six games, completing 28 for a percentage of .683. Five of Bryan's completions have resulted in touchdowns. He has picked up a total of 527 yards through the air, and has had one intercepted.

Intercepts Five Passes
His alertness on defense has enabled him to intercept five passes in six games. These five interceptions have netted 37 yards.

Vic DeOrion paces the Falcons in rushing, punt returns and scoring. He has carried the ball 62 times this year for a net yardage gained of 312. In all, DeOrion has gained 357 yards rushing, but 45 yards were lost which gives him a total of 312. His average per carry is 5.4.

DeOrion is the top scorer for BG with six touchdowns, good for 36 points. His nearest teammate in the scoring department is Jack Hecker, with 26 points. Tom Kisselle, Hecker's running mate at end, is pushing him with 24 points.

DeOrion Tops Jackson
DeOrion tops Carlos Jackson in punt returns, with eight returns, good for 59 yards. Jackson has ran back four punts for 81 yards. Larry Kent has grabbed three for 40 yards.

Hecker is the number one pass receiver on the undefeated Falcons. He has caught 15 passes, which has netted him 315 yards. Three of these passes have gone for TD's.

Kisselle is ranked second with 10 caught passes and 233 total yards. He also has scored three touchdowns. Floyd Lennox is next with three catches for 36 yards.

Kisselle leads BG in kickoff returns with three carries. He has

Harriers Lose To Oberlin Team 24-31

Despite considerable improvement, Bowling Green's cross-country team lost its fifth meet of the season at Oberlin on Wednesday. The score was 24-31.

The first five Falcons posted their best times of the season, but a one-two finish by Oberlin's Bob Service and John Miller made the difference. Service covered the four miles in 21:28.7, just one-tenth of a second ahead of his teammate.

Sophomore Fred Price continued to lead BG, placing third in 21:48.9. Jack Mortland followed Price by thirteen seconds for fourth place. In sixth place for the Falcons, following Oberlin's Bob Lyons, was Bob DeLaRonde. Dan Duricy, showed a fast finish to take eighth place. In tenth was Larry Trask.

Saturday BG goes against Loyola of Chicago and Central Michigan in a double-dual meet on the local course. BG lost to Central Michigan 21-14 and to Loyola 19-14 last season. Central Michigan has Don Witbrodt, who finished first against BG last year, and Jerry Host another veteran to lead its team.

The meet is scheduled for 2 p.m. and will start and finish behind the English Bldg. A high school district meet is scheduled for 10 p.m.

Freshman Grid Tilt Is Postponed Today

It was announced by Forrest Creason, freshman football mentor, that today's originally scheduled freshman football game against Heidelberg College has been postponed and that a tentative date of Monday, Nov. 7th has been set. This will be a home game for the Falcon underlings. Kick-off time is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Falcon Attack Features Sophomore Speedsters

The 1955 Bowling Green varsity football contingent is loaded with five or six promising sophomore speed merchants at the halfback slots. Particularly effective in open field running have been diminutive Vic DeOrion and Floyd Lennox.

DeOrion From Canton

DeOrion, a 1954 high school product from Canton, received All-City and All-County honors his senior year while performing for Lincoln High. He received four letters in football and baseball. Vic is majoring in Physical Education. DeOrion was a standout performer on Forrest Creason's 1954 freshman football team.

DeOrion's biggest feat as a Falcon, if one moment could be singled out, occurred last Saturday when he thrilled a record Homecoming crowd by driving into paydirt twice and with a savage key block, set up Jim Bryan's score.

Lennox Is Left Half

Running from the left halfback position is Floyd Lennox who is alternating with starter Carlos Jackson. He is 170 pounds and is five feet eight inches tall.

Lennox played his high school ball at Cleveland John Adams.

60 Per Cent Pass Swim Requirements

Swimming requirements at the University are passed by 60 per cent of the freshman students who take the swimming courses, said Dr. Samuel Cooper, chairman of the health and physical education department.

"The swimming requirements are: swim continuously 440 yards demonstrating side, breast, back, and crawl strokes; tread water for one minute; float nearly motionless on back; surface dive; dive satisfactorily; and demonstrate the elementary life saving skills," Dr. Cooper added.

Following one nine-week unit of swimming instruction, a student may elect a non-swimming program of physical education providing he successfully passes the above requirements, stated Dr. Cooper.

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Back in my courting days (the raccoon coat was all the rage, everybody was singing Good Morning, Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica) back, I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

Young men today have abandoned this gambit, and I must say I don't understand why. Nothing is quite as effective as poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more, poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subject matter is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her nose, her lips, her teeth, her walk, her talk, her clothes, her shoes—anything at all. Indeed, one of my most lambent love lyrics was called To Maud's Pencil Box. It went like this:

*In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.*

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch; I threatened myself instead of Maud.

*Oh, Maud, pray stop this drivell
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel
And wind around my spine.*

*My heart doth cease its beating.
My spleen uncoils and warps.
My liver stops secreting.
Soon I needs be a corpse.*

When this heart-rending ballad failed to move Maud, I could only conclude that she was cruel and heartless and that I was better off without her. Accordingly, I took back my Hi-Y pin, bid her adieu, and have not clapped eyes upon her since. Last I heard of her, she was in North Scituate, Rhode Island, working as a clam sorter.

There's no telling where it would have ended if she hadn't been drafted

But I did not mourn Maud long, for after Maud came Doris—Doris of the laughing eyes, Doris of the shimmering hair, Doris of the golden tibiae! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a torrent of trochaic tetrameter:

*Oh, my sweet and dulcet Doris!
You're gentle as a Philip Morris,
With its mild and rich tobacco
And its white and scarlet pack-o,
Both in regular and king-size.
Doris, tell me please your ring size.*

Well, of course, the poor girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There's no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, men, you can see the efficacy of poetry as an aid to wooing. Try it soon. All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand muse.

The makers of PHILIP MORRIS, sponsors of this column, give you no rhyme, but plenty of reason, for smoking Philip Morris: It's the gentlest, pleasantest cigarette on the market today.

Dr. Florence J. Williamson greets two of her nephews, Walker and Max, who are both attending the University. These are two of eleven Williamson children who have attended BG.

11 Members Of Williamson Clan Make BG Home For 21 Years

A Cedarville farm family who really believes in education sent all 12 of its children to college, 11 of whom have attended Bowling Green State University.

The twelfth child of the late Raymond Williamson entered BG this fall. Max enrolled as the eleventh member of his family to attend this University. A brother, Walker, is a sophomore here this year.

Of the 11 members who have attended BG, four have graduated, and two are still attending.

The main attraction at BG for the Williamson family has been their father's sister, Dr. Florence J. Williamson, a well-known member of the faculty of the University's College of Education since 1926. Like her brother, Miss Williamson graduated from Cedarville College. After Raymond graduated, he returned to the family farm near Cedarville while his sister went on to become a teacher. She continued her education at Ohio State University where she received her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees.

Like her husband and 12 children, Mrs. Raymond Williamson also attended college. She was a student at Wooster and a teacher before she married.

The first Williamson, Lawrence, graduated from BG in '39, and is now a major in the Pentagon. Next was John, who attended BG in '38 and '39, and graduated from Ohio State in '41. He is now stationed in Fort Worth, Texas.

Graduating from BG in '41 was Frances, now assistant to the state director of health in Ohio. Then to this campus came Miron, who attended the University from '40 to '41, and is now manager of the Osborn Co-op Grain Association at Fairborn.

Nancy, now Mrs. Motter Penny-packer, Jr. of Toledo, was next to attend school here. She attended for four years, leaving in '42 to be married. Donald, a pilot and jet flight instructor at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona, followed Nancy. He graduated from BG in '48.

Janet graduated from BG in '49 and later became Mrs. Kenneth Barker, of Mariemount, near Cincinnati. Mildred was next. She attended BG for two years and is now Mrs. Richard Sharp of Xenia. Robert is the only one of the 12 children who did not attend BG. He was a student at Cedarville College, and took over the two farms when his father died in 1950.

Kent, now in the army, attended BG from '51 to '53. He expects to be discharged in January and to return to this campus in February to complete his education.

When Kent returns, it won't be the first time there has been more than one member of the Williamson family enrolled at BG at the same time. In fact, there has been a Williamson at the University each year since 1934 except for 1943 and 1950.

It's likely there will be a Williamson around the campus for another four years—making it a total of a quarter of a century that Williamsons have been students at Bowling Green State University.
